Helping your Children Understand National Security through Enhanced Home-School Co-operation (Circular No.: E109/2020-2021)

Dear Parents/Guardians,

The Education Bureau (EDB) issued a circular in February 2021 to provide schools with a set of guidelines on safeguarding national security and national security education. Among which, from the home-school co-operation perspective, schools should maintain close contact with parents, encourage parents to learn more about the National Security Law, proactively partner with schools and strengthen their collaboration with teachers to help students understand national security and the relevant laws in a rational and positive manner, with a view to enhancing students' awareness of national security and abiding by the law.

The EDB has prepared a leaflet titled "What Parents Need to Know – Helping your Children Understand National Security through Enhanced Home-School Co-operation" to help parents understand their roles in supporting schools' work on national security education. The leaflet will be uploaded onto the school website and delivered to parents via WhatsApp for reference.

Yours faithfully,
